Dear Meadowbrook School Community,

I write with an update on the second round of our head of school search. Over the past month and a half, our consultants, Jay Underwood and Nicole McDermott of Educational Directions, met with several candidates who are interested in being the next head of school at The Meadowbrook School. The search committee is in the middle of Zoom semifinalist interviews now, and we anticipate that, before winter break, the search committee will then select finalists who will interview on campus the first two weeks in January. The finalist visits will be similar to the fall.

The process is moving forward quickly, and the upcoming weeks will be filled with activity. Part of that activity will include opportunities for your active participation in the process through attending community coffees from 8:00am-8:30am during each finalist's visit. For planning purposes, please pencil in the following dates:

- Wednesday, January 8th
- Friday, January 10th
- Tuesday, January 14th

Thank you for your commitment to Meadowbrook, and we wish you a joyful and warm holiday season!

Sincerely,

Marlene Sidhu
